I Am Retired And Thoroughly Enjoying Life. I Am In Good Health. I Love Gardening, Reading And Have Plenty Of Time To Spend With Family And Friends' Enjoy Cultural Activities , Travelling And Theatre. Currently I am enjoying Aqua Aerobics and Pilates. From Jaipur I moved To Newcastle, Australia Where My Family Had moved From Arusha , Tanzania. I Completed My Internship There At Royal Newcastle Hospital And Surprisingly I Got Paid For It !! It Was Good To finally Earn A Living! I Started My Residency In Internal Medicine Until We Decided To Move To Usa In 1980. After A Hiatus Of 3 Years While I Took Care Of our Children I took the US Required Exams and Started Residency In Nuclear Medicine For 1 year And Then Was Lucky To get A Radiology Residency Position . We Were In Pittsburgh And Then I Moved For The Last Two Years Of Residency To Emory University In Atlanta Since My Husband Got A Job. I Specialized In Breast Imaging And Image Guided Biopsies. I Was Director Of The Breast Centre At Emory University For Several Years Before Moving Into Private Practice. I Really Enjoyed My Work And, Comradery With My Colleagues And Our Patients. We Had A Wonderful Breast Centre To Work In With State of The Art Equipment And Great Staff Due To The Generosity of A Breast Cancer Survivor.

Memories

I Disliked The Eve Teasing In The College And That Made Me Quite Anxious Especially Since My Family Was In Another Country. For truncated I Had A Boy friend In Medical college So Helped Me For The Years That I Was There. We Had Some Very Good Professors But Others Made Strange Comments.

The Best One I Remember As Being Understanding, Helpful, And Respectful Of Students And Their Needs Was Dr. Ajmera In Physiology.
